

Philosophy instructor's "forward thinking" project – The Bucket List movie

Do you have an official/unofficial Bucket List started? If so, what's on it?

- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____

What could be added to the list based on the thought-starters below or spending a few minutes in thought?

These come straight from The Bucket List movie...

- "Help a complete stranger for the good"
- "Laugh until I cry"
- "Witness something majestic"

Where do you still want to travel (and activities while there...):

What outlandish activity would you like to do that might surprise your loved ones?

If you could live your ideal day/week – what would that involve?

Is there an effort you saw others do and love that would be fun to try? What is it?

List people who have made a positive influence on your personal and/or business life, listing the influence they provided that you'd like to do too